“ From the first moment I saw and listened to Daniel that evening at Booker T I asked my son, "Who is THAT guy?". He was on the stage with many excellent musicians and I was in attendance to support my son that night, yet I could not take my eyes off Daniel. The ensemble followed Daniel's every lead without hesitation because they knew he was taking them where they wanted to go. Never critical, always supportive, able to get the most out of every talent, and a friend for life. I grieve with his family and friends, and know he is loved. Peace and Love, Jeff Thomas
