“ Thank you James for the time you spent with us on this earth. You were truly a great friend and I will always fondly remember the great times we had together in our college years and throughout our 20's. It was my pleasure to have you as the best man at my wedding and I am thankful you were there to celebrate such a pivotal moment in my life. I was always honored that I was able to be the best man at your wedding as well. While I am sad that we grew apart over the years due to living in different cities I often thought of the great times we had together. I still remember the last time we hung out together. We talked for hours and polished off a bottle of good single malt scotch. I figure that was the memory god wanted us to have of each other, on of good friends spending time together and having a great conversation. Godspeed my dear friend and until I see you on the other side I'll continue to think about you every time I enjoy a nice single malt!

“ I came across a picture recently that Nancy had sent in A Christmas card, of James in a football uniform. That is the image that stays with me.
